Czar Proclaims His Reasons For Abdicating Throne

Order Is Quickly Restored In The Big Cities And Government Of The People Quickly Takes Form

TEUTON SOCIALISTS ARE GETTING ACTIVE

Petrograd, March 17.—Czar Nicholas abdicated ruler of Russia has issued a manifesto to his people declaring that the outcome of the war depended on the judgment of the Duma and for this reason he had abdicated the throne. All army officers met in Petrograd today and unanimously resolved to recognize the authority of the Duma.

Teutonic Nations Apprehensive

Amsterdam, March 17. — Europe's heaviest crown was placed in the pool of fate today. Russia's change from a Romanoff dynasty and absolute monarchy to a broad liberal Republic created unrest in Germany and Austria-Hungary which it seemed rapidly crystallizing.

Dispatches from both Berlin and Vienna said the success of the Russian revolution created a "profound impression" in the Teutonic nations. Leaders of Germany and Hungary conferred in Vienna on the grave threat Von Bethmann-Hollweg and Count Disza were the leaders in the conference.

German newspapers commenting on the Russian revolution fear that it will have grave effect on German militarism. In the light of this the papers indicate that German authorities are apprehensive of the complete success of Prussian control.

Threats by Socialists on Wednesday regarding "absolutism and junkism" have forced the chancellor to make broad concessions in order to uphold the Teutonic heirachy.

The nobles of Germany and Hungary now realize that Teutonic intrigue and duplicity can no longer hold sway in Russia.

British Capture City Of Baupaume Today

Germany Gets Set Back in Other Zones of European War.

Two terrific smashes have been delivered against the German troops on the west front according to official dispatches today.

General Haig has reported the capture of Baupaume by British troops.

French troops took 3$ square miles of the enemy ines on the Arve river. The French troops made a sweep on a front of 12 miles to a depth of 2 1 2 miles.

News of the capture of Baupaume, von Hindenberg's "Gibraltar of the west," coming immediately following the lowering of Teutonic prestige occasioned by the failure of German intrigue in Russia created great enthusiasm here.

Dispatches from the front Thursday coupled with Haig's official statement reporting the fighting in a measure prepared the people for the news.

Further French progress also was reported in the Maison-Champagne sector while other reports from various points on the front pointed to success.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC

The pupils recital at the Susquehanna College of Music Thursday evening was highly successful. The spacious auditorium was comfortably filled when the first number was announced and at the conclusion of the program all were enthusiastic over the showing of the young folks and the thoroughness of the instruction of Prof. Thayer and his assistants at this popular institution.

There were fifteen piano numbers, one violin and one cornet during the evening and from the youngest member of the class, Miss Marion Shively, 8 years old, all played from memory. The orchestra did fine work in their three numbers and in conclusion Prof. Thayer gave an interesting talk on the three great composers whose compositions had places on the evenings program, Offenbach, Grieg and John Philip Sousa.

The Bird Family Coming to the Front In Our Public Schools

Every Good Citizen Should Insist That no Boy or Girl Destroy a Bird or Its Nest

Bird study is no trifling fad. Birds are public property, protected by laws, that are beginning to be respected and enforced. While there are a number of very interesting bird books on the market, yet boys and girls do not seem to acquire that knowledge of an interest in bird life that they should while they are attending school. Children should be taught the human value and importance of birds. We must suggest things for them to do which shall help and increase bird life about their homes.

According to Hornaday, the fact is well established that birds are less numerous in the U. S. now than they were a hundred years ago. In Penna. the decrease has been fifty one per cent.

One cause of the decrease is due to the changed condition brought about by the forward movement of civilization. As the woods have been cleared, the prairies broken up for cultivation, and the swamps drained, nesting and ding places of many birds have destroyed. These birds have compelled to do one of th conditions or give up their lives in the struggle

Another important cause is the wholesale robbing of nests and often the destruction of entire broods of young birds by boys who are seized with a mania for collecting eggs. Like many other fads, the collecting craze is dangerously contagious. Let one boy in a village or school district catch the disease and a score of others are attacked immediately. The result is that almost every nest for miles around is spied out and ruthlessly pillaged. It would be a worthy ambition to infuse into our school system, reaching as it does, the life and heart of every child, the purpose to change this destructive process to one of increase in every county, farm and city lot of the land We should insist that no boy or girl destroy a bird or its nest.

The Audubon society will appear especially attractive to teachers who have a particular fondness for bird study. It is not expensive to join and gives one a sense of helping the good work.

Leaders of Brotherhoods Give In To Request of Secretary Lane of Defense Council

Fully Expect Decision of the Supreme Court Will Be Handed Down By Monday Evening

NEGOTIATIONS WILL BE CONTINUED

New York, March 17.—Secretary of the Interior Lane at 3:46 this afternoon issued a statement saying that the railroad strike has been bostponed for 48 hours pending the result of further negotiations.

This will allow time for the supreme court to give a decision on the constitutionality of the Adamson eight hour law on Monday

His statement follows: "At our request and out of appreciation of the national situation the Brotherhoods and the raiload managers have resumed negotiations and in the hope that some adjustment may be had that will avoid a strike at this time the Brotherhood leaders have wired or telephoned thir general chairmen asking that all action be postponed for 48 hours and unless prior to that time something else arises the strike will be called under the authority already given."

The arrangement was reached after an all night and all day of practically uninterrupted mediations and conferences.

New York March 17—While the federal eight hour mediators were closeted with the four railroad brotherhood chiefs for more than three hours today, railroad managers were confident that there will be no strike.

The reasons are: "The railroads do not want a strike and the Brotherhood dares not go through with their threat.

"It will cause a catastrophe which the country cannot face and President Wilson will prevent it."

At one o'clock the railroad managers had not gone into conference with the mediation commission.

The federal mediators went into conference with the railroad Brotherhood chiefs promptly at 10:30.

"We are working earnestly and sincerely to find a solution to this problem," one said at the start.

We will see representatives of the Brotherhood first. After that we expect to see the representatives of the railroads.

"There are various plans under consideration" declared Secretary Lane of the Interior. "We want to find out what both sides want."

The length of the Brotherhood conference taken in conjunction with the belligerent and determined attitude of the railroad leaders before the conference makes it highly probable that the federal mediators were having rough sledding in their attempt to reach an agreement with the men.

THE LOCAL SITUATION

That the railroad managers believe the case is hopeless and a strike inevitable is shown by the fact that last evening Mayor Callahan received a message from General Manager Tripp of the New York Central, which stated that a genera lstrike of railroad employees had been ordered to take effect Saturday evening at 6 o'clock and asked him to see that the property of the New York Central received the proper police protection in case any trouble arose.

This morning Sheriff McCleskey received a similar message from Mr. Tripp representing the New York Central and the General Manager of both the Pennsylvania and Buffalo Rochester and Pittsburg companies in which deputy sheriffs were asked for to protect the property of the different companies from harm in case of trouble.

They were all informed that the Clearfield authorities were on the job at all times and expected to be able to cope with any situation that might exist, but no extra police or deputy sheriffs would be provided until a necessity therefor arose.

FORMER CLEARFIELDER HEARD FROM

Frank P. Beamer, a former well known Clearfield business man, is now located at Cushing, Oklahoma, where he is prospering finely. He is traveling representative in that section for the Kansas City Times Star, while his son Frederick who is six feet tall, is employed in the Cushing postoffice. In addition to his son Mr. Beamer's family consists of a wife and four years old daughter.

John F. Leitzinger, of Leitzinger Bros, received a letter from Beamer yesterday, which we were privileged to read, and in which reference was made to old Clearfield scenes and many Clearfielders.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES

The entertainment given by the pupils of the Seventh and Eighth grades at the High school building last evening was a success in the fullest sense of the word, two fine audiences being present at both performances.

The young folks acquitted themselves remarkably well and were the recipients of much well merited applause.

The children from the Children's Home on Spruce street were present as the guests of the two classes and greatly enjoyed the entertainment.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

The members of her Sunday School class of the West Side M. E. church gave a surprise party and handkerchief shower to Mrs. Belle Zeigler last evening at the home of her son, William Zeigler on West Fifth avenue. A large crowd was in attendance and a most delightful evening was the result, delicious refreshments adding a fitting finale. It was Mrs. Zeigler's birthday and all departed wishing her many happy returns of the day.

THAT AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

The story current about town last night and today regarding a supposed automobile wreck between Clearfield and Woodland was entirely without foundation, so far as The Progress was able to learn, and evidently grew out of the fact that an automobile from Woodland, driven by Jackson Belford, collided with a buggy at the curve in Bigler avenue, near the linehouse, on Thursday evening. In this accident a buggy wheel was smashed, but no one was injured. It is said the buggy was on the wrong side of the street when the accident occurred

Committees Are Selected For Annual Fair

Executive Committee Has Been At Work On Fair Proposition Is Bound To Be Huge Success

MANAGERS SELECTED FOR THE

A meeting of the Clearfield County Fair Association was held today for the purpose of selecting a manager for the coming fair. The Fair Committee decided to put it up to the same men who had charge of the fair last year. The manner in which they conducted the fair last year met with hearty approval all over the county. Mr. E. E. Jimeson wil lbe the General Manager and Mr. T. L. Wall will be Assistant to the General Manager.

At a recent meeting of the Clearfield County Fair Association plans for next fall's big Clearfield county fair were made and the different committees who will be in charge of the management of same were selected and everything possible done towards getting a running start, so to speak, in order that nothing might be neglected or overlooked that would assist in making this the biggest and best fair to be held in this section the coming fall.

With last year's experience to guide them the management feel they can stage a fair that will be a credit both to our town and the county. The farmers are convinced that the committee is really interested in the holding of a real county fair and as a result the agricultural end of the coming exhibition promises to eclipse anything ever before attempted in central Pennsylvania.

Every provision will be made for additional space for exhibits and exhibitions and in addition to the agricultural end of it every business or interest pertaining to our community will make a display and thus give our people a clear insight into what our natural resources consist of or amount to.

While many improvements were made to the park last year considering the time which the committee had to do their work, what was done then was only a patching to what will be done along that line this year, if present plans work out. Many additional stands and booths will be made and every possible comfort [illegible] visitors.

At the meeting for [illegible] Harrison Straw, President Clearfield County Agricultural Society, was made President, Davis Secretary. The Executive Committee is composed of R. L. Wall, Peter Gearhart, Leitzinger. Fair committee Gearhart, A. E. Leitzinger, Kurtz, James Mitchell [illegible]

THE COAN LECTURE

Rev. G W. Coan told a highly interesting story of his experiences during his thirty years as a misionary in the land of the Terrible Turk to a large audience at the Presbyterian church last evening. Rev. Coan for a part of this time was a co-worker of Rev. McDowell who is being supported by the Presbyterian congregation of this place and gave a thrilling first hand exposition of the onerous duties and dangerous confronting the christian worker in that land of persecution pillage and murder.

His talk was both intensely interesting and instructive and received much favorable comment.

What Is Thrift?

e Standard dictionary defines thrift as "care rudence in the management of one's re- s" hrift is not merely saving money It deals ith with spending. Recognizing that there are necessary expenses, Thrift aims to eliminate , to reduce the unnecessary spending and waste ift aims to find the proper proportion between earnings and our expenses.

No one need spend all he earns Now when s are high, profits large, money plentiful, is the to begin the cultivation of the Thrift Habit. The officers of this bank will be glad to advise in the cultivation of Thrift.

MOLDING OUR CHARACTER BY COMPARISON

You have friends of course! All of us have friends Some have not as many as others perhaps but we all have one or two, unless we are of fish hermits living in solitude away from the world

But besides the friend, there are acquaintances business associates neighbors and others with whom we come into contact Every one of these people no matter how congenial, is able to offer us something It is, I believe, our duty to take this something which they have to offer

There is no living person who has not some good trait, no matter how glaring and numerous his or her faults may seem There is no one from whom we cannot learn a lesson

And, do you know these lessons are our rightful heritage? We are all put into this world to make good—to make some little corner, no matter how small and obscure better and more beautiful for having lived

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hopes every man and woman adopts this splendid morning habit.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of half-sick anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

BASEBALL

New York March 16.—So much has been written of Hans Wagner his record his habits, and his all round sterling qualities, that it seems futile to add to the miles of columns that have been used in his favor.

Wagner however, is getting ready to enter his twenty-sixth season of baseball, and the marvel of it is, he is counted on to play a most important part in the hopes of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Wagner is a wonder. His remarkable ball playing isn't the only thing that holds him up to fandom on a pedestal few players ever have reached and none surpassed.

Wagner began to be a ball player before many men now in the game were born. It was in 1891 that he did his first work for the Mansfield, Pa., club. He branched from there to Ohio, finally getting his name into the records for the first time in 1895 when he played with Steubenville as an outfielder. He hung up a mark of .402 for forty-four games.

Wagner spent a couple of seasons in the Atlantic league, playing with Patterson, and then went to Louisville which then boasted a club in the National league. He played three seasons in Louisville and then was taken with the club when it was transferred to Pittsburg. He played first base, third base, and in the outfield for Louisville, hammering the ball each year for averages far ahead of .300, once attaining .379.

Wagner first dropped from the charmed circle of batsman when he hit only .252 in 1914, just after he had barely stuck in the class by hitting an even .300.

Wagner is failing. He isn't the same old ball player at all. He isn't through because he will not admit it, and his smartness in the field and at bat makes him to be desired over younger players who probably would cover more ground. He admitted a year ago it was becoming hard for him to see the ball, and this probably means he will be on the bench a great deal of the time this summer.

Indications are he will not be used in his old position of shortstop, but will take care of first base for Jimmy Callahan's entry.

Sam Crawford of the Detroit Tigers is far in the lead of all big league outfielders in the number of games played, having taken part in 2461 contests Second place belongs to Magee, the Brave's gardener, who is credited with 1,796 games.

Manager Jack Barry of the Champion Red Sox is working out at second and taking care of the job in his usual brilliant form.

George Kelly's high class pitching for the Giants has made the veterans of the McGraw squad sit up and take a second look.

Manager Mathewson of the Reds is elated over the excellent showing of his catching mainstays, Wingo and Clearke. These veteran backstops of the Reds are using their July formula in shooting the pill around the diamond.

Ty Cobb is to do his spring training alone, instead of working out with the rest of the jungle tribe. Ty plans to work off his extra poundage by packing a gun over the hills in South Carolina.

COLLEGE GIRLS IN DEBATE

Boston, Mass., March 17.—The training of girls for forensic combat is no longer "as foolish as it looks" since nowadays every girl may aspire to sit among the nation's lawmaker, or as a member of a State legislature or city council, engage in debate on the great problems of the day. With a possible view to qualifying themselves to follow in the footsteps of Jeannette Rankin, the new "congresswoman," students of three of the leading colleges for young women—Vassar, Wellesley and Mount Holyoke—are to engage in a triangular debate tonight. Each institution is to be represented by two teams, one engaging in a contest at home and the othe abroad. The subject selected for discussion is the Canadian system of compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes.

SINN FEINERS FLAG USED BY IRISH TODAY

San Francisco, March 17.—A green, orange and white flag—the same colors which waved over Dublin last Easter when Patrick Pearse and his followers rebelled against English rule—were the colors which decorated the Civic Auditorium today when San Francisco celebrated St. Patrick's Day. The flag was unanimously adopted by the St. Patrick's Day convention of several thousand Irishmen and friends of Ireland.

A parade of several thousand persons opened the day's festivities, which ended officially when exercises were held in the Auditorium.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN GOTHAM

New York, March 17.—The thousands of sons and daughters of Old Erin who are included among the inhabitants of Greater New York joined hands today in thee ustomary observance of St. Patrick's day. Meetings and banquets in celebration of the day were arranged by the Irish societies in every section of the metropolis. Special religious services were held in all the Catholic churches.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XI.—First Quarter, For March 18, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, John viii, 12, 31-37, 56-59—Memory Verses, 31, 32. Golden Text John viii, 35—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The portions of this chapter selected by the committee bring before us the forgiveness of a sinner, the evidence of true discipleship and the deity of Christ, who was before Abraham. But what about chapter vii? Well, in viii, 20, we have a fact also mentioned in vii, 6, 8, 30—His time to give Himself up had not come, and therefore they could not take him. Contrast xiii, 1, xvii, 1, Jesus knew that His hour was come; Father the hour is come. In the plan of eternity, the plan of the ages and in the plan of your life and mine there is an appointed time, and it becomes us to accept it cheerfully and say, "My times are in thy hand" (Ps. xxxi, 15).

Their desire to kill Him is seen in vii, 1, 32, and in viii, 40. Their hatred of Him is seen in their calling Him a deceiver and a devil (vii, 12, 20; viii, 48). It is perplexing to read in vii, 5, that up to this time His brethren did not believe in Him. Some devoted Christians say, "If my life was what it ought to be at home, would not others in the home receive Him too?" Not necessarily. Consider Jesus. See His great love for all in vii, 37-39, "If any man thirst let him come unto me and drink," and compare Isa. lv, 1; Rev. xxii, 17. In chapter 4 He said that we might be wells of living water, and now He says that we may be rivers by the power of the Holy Spirit, and He can make it true in some measure of us, that everything shall live whither the river cometh (Ezek. xlvii, 9). What an honor to carry life and light in His name! His loneliness is seen in every man going to his own house, while He went to the Mount of Olives (vii, 53; viii, 1).

As to the woman and His writing on the ground, it was a striking object lesson on Jer. xvii, 13, "They that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters." These self righteous scribes and Pharisees had no use for Him, the fountain of living water (Jer. ii, 13); they knew no mercy for sinners and would have Him condemn this poor sinner. What He wrote on the ground we know not, but he virtually said: Ye hypocrites, your names have never been written in heaven (Luke x, 20). You know not God. You shall die in your sins, and where I am you cannot come (verses 21-24). There were no stones thrown, for there was no one present without sin but the Lord Himself, and He had no stones for any penitent sinner; He had no scathing words for any but hypocrites. His "Neither do I condemn thee. Go and sin no more" (verse 11) reminds us that He came, not to condemn, but to save (chapter iii, 17). He is ready at this moment to save any drunkard or other sinner who will turn from sin and come to Him (vi, 37). And He is ready and able to make them free from the wrath to come and from the power of sin here and now (I Thess. i, 10; Matt. i, 21). He is the Light that dispels the darkness, the Truth that makes free, the Son who makes free indeed (verses 12, 32, 36). He is able to save to the uttermost and evermore and from all sin all who truly turn to Him. But He has to say to many: "Ye will not come unto Me." "I would, but ye would not" (John v, 40; Matt. xxiii, 37).

It is still thought by some that all people are children of God, but our Lord told these religious hypocrites that they belonged to their father, the devil, who is the father of lies and a murderer. It cost God and His Son a great deal to make provision whereby a sinner might become a child of God. The full benefits of the great sacrifice are offered freely to every penitent sinner, but there is no other way to become a child of God than by receiving Jesus Christ as one's personal Saviour, putting all our trust in His great sacrifice for our sins (John i, 12). All are by nature children of wrath and dead in sins (Eph. ii, 3, 5), and, continuing in unbelief, the wrath of God abideth on them (John iii, 36). What an awfully wicked one and hater of God and man the devil must be to lead any one to prefer the wages of sin, which is death, to the gift of God, which is eternal life! Cain was religious, but he rejected God's way of life and proved himself a child of the devil (I John iii, 12). And all religiousness today that does not know the forgiveness of sins by the precious blood of the Lamb of God is not of God, but of the adversary.

Mark well His great saying, "Before Abraham was I am" (verse 58), and think of Him as the one whose goings forth have been from of old, from the days of eternity (Mic. v, 2, margin). The Creator of all things, the revealer of salvation to Adam and Eve, the God of Abraham Isaac and Jacob, the one who appeared to Moses in the burning bush, and to Joshua by Jericho, and to Gideon and Manoah, the Lord God of the holy prophets, the one who shall yet be the one King over all the earth, when it shall be filled with His glory, and let Him have your whole heart and life always. They said, "Thou art not yet fifty years old." He was but thirty-five. I wonder if being a man of sorrows made Him look like fifty.

He left today for DuBois.

Czar Proclaims His Reasons For Abdicating Throne

Order Is Quickly Restored In The Big Cities And Government Of The People Quickly Takes Form

TEUTON SOCIALISTS ARE GETTING ACTIVE

Petrograd, March 17.—Czar Nicholas abdicated ruler of Russia has issued a manifesto to his people declaring that the outcome of the war depended on the judgment of the Duma and for this reason he had abdicated the throne. All army officers met in Petrograd today and unanimously resolved to recognize the authority of the Duma.

Teutonic Nations Apprehensive

Amsterdam, March 17. — Europe's heaviest crown was placed in the pool of fate today. Russia's change from a Romanoff dynasty and absolute monarchy to a broad liberal Republic created unrest in Germany and Austria-Hungary which it seemed rapidly crystallizing.

Dispatches from both Berlin and Vienna said the success of the Russian revolution created a "profound impression" in the Teutonic nations. Leaders of Germany and Hungary conferred in Vienna on the grave threat Von Bethmann-Hollweg and Count Disza were the leaders in the conference.

German newspapers commenting on the Russian revolution fear that it will have grave effect on German militarism. In the light of this the papers indicate that German authorities are apprehensive of the complete success of Prussian control.

Threats by Socialists on Wednesday regarding "absolutism and junkism" have forced the chancellor to make broad concessions in order to uphold the Teutonic heirachy.

The nobles of Germany and Hungary now realize that Teutonic intrigue and duplicity can no longer hold sway in Russia.

British Capture City Of Baupaume Today

Germany Gets Set Back in Other Zones of European War.

Two terrific smashes have been delivered against the German troops on the west front according to official dispatches today.

General Haig has reported the capture of Baupaume by British troops.

French troops took 3$ square miles of the enemy ines on the Arve river. The French troops made a sweep on a front of 12 miles to a depth of 2 1 2 miles.

News of the capture of Baupaume, von Hindenberg's "Gibraltar of the west," coming immediately following the lowering of Teutonic prestige occasioned by the failure of German intrigue in Russia created great enthusiasm here.

Dispatches from the front Thursday coupled with Haig's official statement reporting the fighting in a measure prepared the people for the news.

Further French progress also was reported in the Maison-Champagne sector while other reports from various points on the front pointed to success.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC

The pupils recital at the Susquehanna College of Music Thursday evening was highly successful. The spacious auditorium was comfortably filled when the first number was announced and at the conclusion of the program all were enthusiastic over the showing of the young folks and the thoroughness of the instruction of Prof. Thayer and his assistants at this popular institution.

There were fifteen piano numbers, one violin and one cornet during the evening and from the youngest member of the class, Miss Marion Shively, 8 years old, all played from memory. The orchestra did fine work in their three numbers and in conclusion Prof. Thayer gave an interesting talk on the three great composers whose compositions had places on the evenings program, Offenbach, Grieg and John Philip Sousa.

The Bird Family Coming to the Front In Our Public Schools

Every Good Citizen Should Insist That no Boy or Girl Destroy a Bird or Its Nest

Bird study is no trifling fad. Birds are public property, protected by laws, that are beginning to be respected and enforced. While there are a number of very interesting bird books on the market, yet boys and girls do not seem to acquire that knowledge of an interest in bird life that they should while they are attending school. Children should be taught the human value and importance of birds. We must suggest things for them to do which shall help and increase bird life about their homes.

According to Hornaday, the fact is well established that birds are less numerous in the U. S. now than they were a hundred years ago. In Penna. the decrease has been fifty one per cent.

One cause of the decrease is due to the changed condition brought about by the forward movement of civilization. As the woods have been cleared, the prairies broken up for cultivation, and the swamps drained, nesting and ding places of many birds have destroyed. These birds have compelled to do one of th conditions or give up their lives in the struggle

Another important cause is the wholesale robbing of nests and often the destruction of entire broods of young birds by boys who are seized with a mania for collecting eggs. Like many other fads, the collecting craze is dangerously contagious. Let one boy in a village or school district catch the disease and a score of others are attacked immediately. The result is that almost every nest for miles around is spied out and ruthlessly pillaged. It would be a worthy ambition to infuse into our school system, reaching as it does, the life and heart of every child, the purpose to change this destructive process to one of increase in every county, farm and city lot of the land We should insist that no boy or girl destroy a bird or its nest.

The Audubon society will appear especially attractive to teachers who have a particular fondness for bird study. It is not expensive to join and gives one a sense of helping the good work.

Leaders of Brotherhoods Give In To Request of Secretary Lane of Defense Council

NEGOTIATIONS WILL BE CONTINUED

New York, March 17.—Secretary of the Interior Lane at 3:46 this afternoon issued a statement saying that the railroad strike has been bostponed for 48 hours pending the result of further negotiations.

This will allow time for the supreme court to give a decision on the constitutionality of the Adamson eight hour law on Monday

His statement follows: "At our request and out of appreciation of the national situation the Brotherhoods and the raiload managers have resumed negotiations and in the hope that some adjustment may be had that will avoid a strike at this time the Brotherhood leaders have wired or telephoned thir general chairmen asking that all action be postponed for 48 hours and unless prior to that time something else arises the strike will be called under the authority already given."

The arrangement was reached after an all night and all day of practically uninterrupted mediations and conferences.

New York March 17—While the federal eight hour mediators were closeted with the four railroad brotherhood chiefs for more than three hours today, railroad managers were confident that there will be no strike.

The reasons are: "The railroads do not want a strike and the Brotherhood dares not go through with their threat.

"It will cause a catastrophe which the country cannot face and President Wilson will prevent it."

At one o'clock the railroad managers had not gone into conference with the mediation commission.

The federal mediators went into conference with the railroad Brotherhood chiefs promptly at 10:30.

"We are working earnestly and sincerely to find a solution to this problem," one said at the start.

We will see representatives of the Brotherhood first. After that we expect to see the representatives of the railroads.

"There are various plans under consideration" declared Secretary Lane of the Interior. "We want to find out what both sides want."

The length of the Brotherhood conference taken in conjunction with the belligerent and determined attitude of the railroad leaders before the conference makes it highly probable that the federal mediators were having rough sledding in their attempt to reach an agreement with the men.

THE LOCAL SITUATION

That the railroad managers believe the case is hopeless and a strike inevitable is shown by the fact that last evening Mayor Callahan received a message from General Manager Tripp of the New York Central, which stated that a genera lstrike of railroad employees had been ordered to take effect Saturday evening at 6 o'clock and asked him to see that the property of the New York Central received the proper police protection in case any trouble arose.

This morning Sheriff McCleskey received a similar message from Mr. Tripp representing the New York Central and the General Manager of both the Pennsylvania and Buffalo Rochester and Pittsburg companies in which deputy sheriffs were asked for to protect the property of the different companies from harm in case of trouble.

They were all informed that the Clearfield authorities were on the job at all times and expected to be able to cope with any situation that might exist, but no extra police or deputy sheriffs would be provided until a necessity therefor arose.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES

The entertainment given by the pupils of the Seventh and Eighth grades at the High school building last evening was a success in the fullest sense of the word, two fine audiences being present at both performances.

THAT AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

The story current about town last night and today regarding a supposed automobile wreck between Clearfield and Woodland was entirely without foundation, so far as The Progress was able to learn, and evidently grew out of the fact that an automobile from Woodland, driven by Jackson Belford, collided with a buggy at the curve in Bigler avenue, near the limehouse, on Thursday evening. In this accident a buggy wheel was smashed, but no one was injured. It is said the buggy was on the wrong side of the street when the accident occurred

Committees Are Selected For Annual Fair

Executive Committee Has Been At Work On Fair Proposition Is Bound To Be Huge Success

MANAGERS SELECTED FOR THE

A meeting of the Clearfield County Fair Association was held today for the purpose of selecting a manager for the coming fair. The Fair Committee decided to put it up to the same men who had charge of the fair last year. The manner in which they conducted the fair last year met with hearty approval all over the county. Mr. E. E. Jimeson wil lbe the General Manager and Mr. T. L. Wall will be Assistant to the General Manager.

At a recent meeting of the Clearfield County Fair Association plans for next fall's big Clearfield county fair were made and the different committees who will be in charge of the management of same were selected and everything possible done towards getting a running start, so to speak, in order that nothing might be neglected or overlooked that would assist in making this the biggest and best fair to be held in this section the coming fall.

With last year's experience to guide them the management feel they can stage a fair that will be a credit both to our town and the county. The farmers are convinced that the committee is really interested in the holding of a real county fair and as a result the agricultural end of the coming exhibition promises to eclipse anything ever before attempted in central Pennsylvania.

Every provision will be made for additional space for exhibits and exhibitions and in addition to the agricultural end of it every business or interest pertaining to our community will make a display and thus give our people a clear insight into what our natural resources consist of or amount to.

While many improvements were made to the park last year considering the time which the committee had to do their work, what was done then was only a patching to what will be done along that line this year, if present plans work out. Many additional stands and booths will be made and every possible comfort [illegible] visitors.

At the meeting for [illegible] Harrison Straw, President Clearfield County Agricultural Society, was made President, Davis Secretary. The Executive Committee is composed of B. L. Wall, Peter Gearhart, Leitzinger. Fair committee Gearhart, A. E. Leitzinger, Kurtz, James Mitchell [illegible]

Rev. Coan for a part of this time was a co-worker of Rev. His talk was both intensely interesting and instructive and received much favorable comment.

MOLDING OUR CHARACTER BY COMPARISON

You have friends of course! All of us have friends. Some have not as many as others, perhaps but we all have one or two, unless we are of fish hermits living in solitude away from the world.

But besides the friend, there are acquaintances, business associates, neighbors and others with whom we come into contact. Every one of these people, no matter how congenial, is able to offer us something. It is, I believe, our duty to take this something which they have to offer.

There is no living person who has not some good trait, no matter how glaring and numerous his or her faults may seem. There is no one from whom we cannot learn a lesson.

And, do you know, these lessons are our rightful heritage? We are all put into this world to make good—to make some little corner, no matter how small and obscure, better and more beautiful for having lived.

College is where some youths go to study Broadway. These young men return home at the end of four or five years of age, with the degree of D. D. D. or Doctor of Drinks & Debts. QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hopes every man and woman adopts this splendid morning habit.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of half-sick anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

BASEBALL

New York March 16.—So much has been written of Hans Wagner his record his habits, and his all round sterling qualities, that it seems futile to add to the miles of columns that have been used in his favor.

Wagner however, is getting ready to enter his twenty-sixth season of baseball, and the marvel of it is, he is counted on to play a most important part in the hopes of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Wagner is a wonder. His remarkable ball playing isn't the only thing that holds him up to fandom on a pedestal few players ever have reached and none surpassed.

Wagner began to be a ball player before many men now in the game were born. It was in 1891 that he did his first work for the Mansfield, Pa., club. He branched from there to Ohio, finally getting his name into the records for the first time in 1895 when he played with Steubenville as an outfielder. He hung up a mark of .402 for forty-four games.

Wagner spent a couple of seasons in the Atlantic league, playing with Patterson, and then went to Louisville which then boasted a club in the National league. He played three seasons in Louisville and then was taken with the club when it was transferred to Pittsburg. He played first base, third base, and in the outfield for Louisville, hammering the ball each year for averages far ahead of .300, once attaining .379.

Wagner first dropped from the charmed circle of batsman when he hit only .252 in 1914, just after he had barely stuck in the class by hitting an even .300.

Wagner is failing. He isn't the same old ball player at all. He isn't through because he will not admit it, and his smartness in the field and at bat makes him to be desired over younger players who probably would cover more ground. He admitted a year ago it was becoming hard for him to see the ball, and this probably means he will be on the bench a great deal of the time this summer.

Indications are he will not be used in his old position of shortstop, but will take care of first base for Jimmy Callahan's entry.

Sam Crawford of the Detroit Tigers is far in the lead of all big league outfielders in the number of games played, having taken part in 2461 contests Second place belongs to Magee, the Brave's gardener, who is credited with 1,796 games.

Manager Jack Barry of the Champion Red Sox is working out at second and taking care of the job in his usual brilliant form.

George Kelly's high class pitching for the Giants has made the veterans of the McGraw squad sit up and take a second look.

Manager Mathewson of the Reds is elated over the excellent showing of his catching mainstays, Wingo and Clearke. These veteran backstops of the Reds are using their July formula in shooting the pill around the diamond.

Ty Cobb is to do his spring training alone, instead of working out with the rest of the jungle tribe. Ty plans to work off his extra poundage by packing a gun over the hills in South Carolina.

COLLEGE GIRLS IN DEBATE

Boston, Mass., March 17.—The training of girls for forensic combat is no longer "as foolish as it looks" since nowadays every girl may aspire to sit among the nation's lawmaker, or as a member of a State legislature or city council, engage in debate on the great problems of the day. With a possible view to qualifying themselves to follow in the footsteps of Jeannette Rankin, the new "congresswoman," students of three of the leading colleges for young women—Vassar, Wellesley and Mount Holyoke—are to engage in a triangular debate tonight. Each institution is to be represented by two teams, one engaging in a contest at home and the othe abroad. The subject selected for discussion is the Canadian system of compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes.

SINN FEINERS FLAG USED BY IRISH TODAY

San Francisco, March 17.—A green, orange and white flag—the same colors which waved over Dublin last Easter when Patrick Pearse and his followers rebelled against English rule—were the colors which decorated the Civic Auditorium today when San Francisco celebrated St. Patrick's Day. The flag was unanimously adopted by the St. Patrick's Day convention of several thousand Irishmen and friends of Ireland.

A parade of several thousand persons opened the day's festivities, which ended officially when exercises were held in the Auditorium.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XI.—First Quarter, For March 18, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, John viii, 12, 31-37, 56-59—Memory Verses, 31, 32. Golden Text John viii, 35—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The portions of this chapter selected by the committee bring before us the forgiveness of a sinner, the evidence of true discipleship and the deity of Christ, who was before Abraham. But what about chapter vii? Well, in viii, 20, we have a fact also mentioned in vii, 6, 8, 30—His time to give Himself up had not come, and therefore they could not take him. Contrast xiii, 1, xvii, 1, Jesus knew that His hour was come; Father the hour is come. In the plan of eternity, the plan of the ages and in the plan of your life and mine there is an appointed time, and it becomes us to accept it cheerfully and say, "My times are in thy hand" (Ps. xxxi, 15).

Their desire to kill Him is seen in vii, 1, 32, and in viii, 40. Their hatred of Him is seen in their calling Him a deceiver and a devil (vii, 12, 20; viii, 48). It is perplexing to read in vii, 5, that up to this time His brethren did not believe in Him. Some devoted Christians say, "If my life was what it ought to be at home, would not others in the home receive Him too?" Not necessarily. Consider Jesus. See His great love for all in vii, 37-39, "If any man thirst let him come unto me and drink," and compare Isa. lv, 1; Rev. xxii, 17. In chapter 4 He said that we might be wells of living water, and now He says that we may be rivers by the power of the Holy Spirit, and He can make it true in some measure of us, that everything shall live whither the river cometh (Ezek. xlvii, 9). What an honor to carry life and light in His name! His loneliness is seen in every man going to his own house, while He went to the Mount of Olives (vii, 53; viii, 1).

As to the woman and His writing on the ground, it was a striking object lesson on Jer. xvii, 13, "They that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the Lord, the fountain of living waters." These self righteous scribes and Pharisees had no use for Him, the fountain of living water (Jer. ii, 13); they knew no mercy for sinners and would have Him condemn this poor sinner. What He wrote on the ground we know not, but he virtually said: Ye hypocrites, your names have never been written in heaven (Luke x, 20). You know not God. You shall die in your sins, and where I am you cannot come (verses 21-24). There were no stones thrown, for there was no one present without sin but the Lord Himself, and He had no stones for any penitent sinner; He had no scathing words for any but hypocrites. His "Neither do I condemn thee. Go and sin no more" (verse 11) reminds us that He came, not to condemn, but to save (chapter iii, 17). He is ready at this moment to save any drunkard or other sinner who will turn from sin and come to Him (vi, 37). And He is ready and able to make them free from the wrath to come and from the power of sin here and now (I Thess. i, 10; Matt. i, 21). He is the Light that dispels the darkness, the Truth that makes free, the Son who makes free indeed (verses 12, 32, 36). He is able to save to the uttermost and evermore and from all sin all who truly turn to Him. But He has to say to many: "Ye will not come unto Me." "I would, but ye would not" (John v, 40; Matt. xxiii, 37).

It is still thought by some that all people are children of God, but our Lord told these religious hypocrites that they belonged to their father, the devil, who is the father of lies and a murderer. It cost God and His Son a great deal to make provision whereby a sinner might become a child of God. The full benefits of the great sacrifice are offered freely to every penitent sinner, but there is no other way to become a child of God than by receiving Jesus Christ as one's personal Saviour, putting all our trust in His great sacrifice for our sins (John i, 12). All are by nature children of wrath and dead in sins (Eph. ii, 3, 5), and, continuing in unbelief, the wrath of God abideth on them (John iii, 36). What an awfully wicked one and hater of God and man the devil must be to lead any one to prefer the wages of sin, which is death, to the gift of God, which is eternal life! Cain was religious, but he rejected God's way of life and proved himself a child of the devil (I John iii, 12). And all religiousness today that does not know the forgiveness of sins by the precious blood of the Lamb of God is not of God, but of the adversary.

Mark well His great saying, "Before Abraham was I am" (verse 58), and think of Him as the one whose goings forth have been from of old, from the days of eternity (Mic. v, 2, margin). The Creator of all things, the revealer of salvation to Adam and Eve, the God of Abraham Isaac and Jacob, the one who appeared to Moses in the burning bush, and to Joshua by Jericho, and to Gideon and Manoah, the Lord God of the holy prophets, the one who shall yet be the one King over all the earth, when it shall be filled with His glory, and let Him have your whole heart and life always. They said, "Thou art not yet fifty years old." He was but thirty-five. I wonder if being a man of sorrows made Him look like fifty.

He left today for DuBois.
